

Stamp Out Poverty – tax the banks

seminar/workshop

Sunday 3 July 2005, 10.00 – 11.45am

Adam House 1, Chamber Street, Edinburgh

The trade in currencies is worth a staggering $475,000 billion a year, with banks earning annual profits of around $50 billion.

Yet the market remains untaxed and unregulated. A simple tax on this huge pile of money would help to bring millions of people out of poverty and stabilise the global economy.

Play your part, make it happen!

Join campaigners from across Europe
to plan coordinated action

Proposing Organisations:

ATTAC France * Stamp Out Poverty (UK) * WEED (Germany)